CONCENTRATED COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA.

PREPARED with the very best materials and with the greatest care so as to obtain the full medicinal properties of each of the articles of which it is composed.
This preparation of the finest Jamaica root is decidedly preferable to any other form in which Sarsaparilla can be administered, on account of its portability and superior efficacy.
It contains the whole active and medicinal properties of the root in the highest state of concentration, combined with the ingredients of the compound decoction ordered in the British Pharmacopœia, the beneficial effects of which, as an alterative and restorative, have been universally admitted and established by the sanction and recommendation of the most eminent practitioners of the present day.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, Oct. 2, 1880.

CONSOLS in London yesterday were unaltered at 97¼. French Rentes at 120, and Unfaced Rupee Paper at 80⅜ for Fours and 95⅛ for Fours-and-a-half. Indian Exchange bankers' firm, Chartered and Chartered Mercantile being quoted at £23-10, and Hongkong and Shanghai at £28.

The London Money Market remains without change, but a withdrawal from the Bank of England is advised of £160,000 for North America.

In the General Produce Markets, Coffee and Cocoanut Oil are the same; Rapeseed partially £1 to £2 per quarter higher.

Piece Goods in Manchester are reported steady at the prices quoted last Tuesday, with the exception of a decline of ¼d per piece in 40s to 42s Shirtings and an advance of ¼d per lb in 40s Mule Twist.

Cotton in Liverpool yesterday closed quiet, the sales being estimated at 8,000 bales. Spot prices are unchanged, except for a decline of 1-16d. in Mid-Uplands. Deliveries for this month are given at 6 19-32d and for October-November at 6 7-16d. per lb. In New York yesterday ready Mid.-Uplands declined from 11 13-16 to 11 9-16d. and December shipment from 10·85 to 10·79 cents per lb.

We subjoin our usual weekly comparison of the supplies of Cotton with the corresponding date of the two previous years. The quarterly stock taking in Liverpool appears to have shown that the estimate was 73,000 bales in excess of the actual quantity held, but notwithstanding this the visible supply has gained 20,000 bales on the week, and shows 373,000 bales over the same time last year. Looking to the tenor of the American advices, we accordingly still hold to the idea that prices must yet give way materially before they find a permanent level.

The American Crop figures to date give the following comparisons with the two previous seasons:—

Week's Receipts	1880.	1879.	1878.
Exports to U. K.	171,000	161,000	132,000
	57,000	28,000	37,000
Total Receipts since 1st Sept.	791,000	710,000	575,000
Exports to U. K.	297,000	264,000	211,000
" to Continent	69,000	44,000	34,000
Stock in the Ports	352,000	305,000	282,000

The visible supply of Cotton for all Europe on 1st October of this and the past two years stood as follows:—

	1880.	1879.	1878.
Total Supply of all kinds	1,330,000	952,000	1,060,000
" Afloat	57,000	272,000	237,000
For the U. K. only the figures are:—
Stock in Liverpool	468,000	232,000	351,000
" London	54,000	60,000	25,000
American Afloat	80,000	51,000	45,000
E. Indian "	13,000	67,000	99,000
	617,000	411,000	518,000
Price of Mid. Uplands	6 13-16d.	6d.	6 7-16d.
" Fair Dhollera	4 15-16d.	5d.	5 5-16d.
Difference	1d.	1d.	1d.

EXCHANGE.—The transactions in Sterling to-day have been small, and the feeling has been decidedly easier, although the only alterations in rates consist of a partial decline of 1-32d. in Bank Bills. The banks, however, are all more willing buyers and less eager sellers for future delivery, and as both Calcutta and China advices lack strength, it seems pretty evident that we shall have easier rates for a time. Not that we believe in any serious decline—the future contains too many elements of strength for that; but with the holidays coming on in Calcutta, and more doing in imports than exports, here there is nothing at the moment to support the market. We quote closing rates:—

Bank Bills, on demand		1s. 8 1-16d. per Rupee
Do. telegraphic		1s. 8 1-32d. "
Do. 3 months' sight		1s. 8 5-32d. "
Do. 4 "		1s. 8 7-32d. "
Credits, 4 "		1s. 8 9-32d. "
Documents 3 "		1s. 8 5-16d. "
France 3 "		2s. 1½ to 2s. 1¾d. "

On Calcutta demand is ¼ per cent. premium, 60 days sight 5-16 per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER has been very quiet to-day, and we have not heard of any transactions of importance, while quotations remain practically unchanged. Fours, Rs. 96 7-16; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 104¾ to 7-16.

SHARES are not particularly active, but values all round are very steady. Banks are unaltered, as also are Land and Press Companies. Spinning and Weaving Mill Shares are firm, and we quote an advance of Rs. 25 in Alliance, Rs. 5 in Dhurrumsey and Madras United, and Rs. 10 in Sassoon. Bombay Saw Mills have changed hands at Rs. 715 and Treacher & Co. at Rs. 670.

COTTON is very quiet owing to the tenor of the Liverpool advices. Prices are unaltered, and we have not heard of any purchases for export, but of New Crop there are still sellers, but no buyers.

SEEDS.—In Linseed there is still a moderate spot business doing at Rs. 6-13 to Rs. 6-15, and further forward contracts for New Crop are reported to have been made at Rs. 6-6 to Rs. 6-7 per cwt. In Rapeseed and Gingelly no new transactions have transpired.

FREIGHTS are steady, but unaltered all round. For Liverpool the supply of steamer tonnage seems [illegible] to give way, notwithstanding the limited quantity of export cargo coming forward.

PIECE GOODS continue in fair demand, and from the bazaar the clearances for the past day or two have been something like 500 packages a day. To arrive, however, there is still very little doing except in special makes, and no great improvement can be expected in this respect until stocks are materially reduced and Manchester prices are more on a parity with our currencies.

IN COALS we have not heard of any fresh transactions to-day, the large sales to arrive of late having apparently filled up buyers for the time being. Sellers, however, do not appear inclined to reduce their rates further at the moment.

THE MAIWAND DESPATCHES.

The Maiwand Despatches and the trenchant criticism of the Commander-in-Chief, forwarded to the Government of India by General Greaves, the Adjutant General. Without further referring to these documents to-day, it is to be noted that the Commander-in-Chief—or General Greaves for him—takes it for granted that had General Burrows known that Ayoub's force was so numerous he would not have risked a battle, but would have retired on Kandahar. This supposition seems to us to ignore entirely and unaccountably the established fact that Ayoub's exact strength in men and guns was well known not only to General Burrows and General Primrose, but to the Commander-in-Chief himself. Yet the latter never ordered the Brigade to be withdrawn to Kandahar. It is true that on the 15th July Sir F. Haines telegraphed to General Primrose: "Wali's troops having deserted, the situation has completely changed. General Burrows must act according to his own judgment, reporting fully. He must act with caution on account of distance of support." But on the 21st he telegraphed, urging the importance of attacking Ayoub, and asking whether the position at Kushk-i-Nakhud was one which would admit of Burrows striking a blow at Ayoub, if the latter attempted to slip past towards Gluzni. In view of these facts, it seems difficult to understand the leading assumption of the Commander-in-Chief's criticism, that had Ayoub's strength been known, General Burrows would not have fought a battle, but would have retreated. Ayoub's strength was perfectly well known to all concerned, and it never occurred to the Commander-in-Chief to suggest such a retreat. On the contrary, he suggested that Burrows should "strike a blow" at Ayoub, i.e., go forth and attack him. And the same overweening confidence prevailed in the Brigade itself. No one imagined that defeat was possible. There is no doubt that, not only General Burrows, but the officers under him were confident of victory almost up to the moment of defeat. Private letters from officers with the brigade show this, and moreover, that long before the day of battle, not the General only, but every member of the force confidently anticipated a favourable result in any engagement that they might have to fight against Ayoub. A letter from Lieut. J. Henn, R. E., (killed in the battle) to a friend, which is dated Kushk-i-Nakhud, July 20th, states that on that day Ayoub was known to be forty miles off, with 12,000 men and thirty-six guns; and the writer continues: "we are 2,400 men and six guns, but we shall have little difficulty in giving a good account of him if he ventures to fight." Again, Major Blackwood, R. A., who commanded E-B., R. H. A., at the battle, and was killed, writing after the brush with the Wali's infantry deserters, states that Ayoub was advancing with thirty-six guns, and adds an assurance that his six guns would be more than a match for Ayoub's thirty-six. One more instance may be quoted. General Brooke, writing on the 23rd July, from Kandahar, mentioned that Ayoub was approaching, but he felt sure General Burrows would be able to give a good account of him. Thus it plainly appears there was no doubt in men's minds on the spot that General Burrows' force would be able to give a satisfactory account of Ayoub Khan, notwithstanding the latter's great superiority of numbers. This anticipation, unfortunately, was not realised, owing to reasons which have not even yet been thoroughly explained. Considering the general feeling at Kandahar and in General Burrows' force, it appears unfair to General Primrose—particularly pending receipt of full details—to blame him solely for allowing General Burrows to remain where he was, giving him instructions to engage, if a favourable opportunity should present itself. The fact is the whole Kandahar force was far too weak and the generals who had to do the fighting on the spot, instead of getting assistance from head-quarters, were hampered with most needless, misleading, and irritating messages, meant only to shift the blame from the senders' own shoulders, should any disaster occur. The Bombay column was treated as the Bombay and Madras Presidencies are always treated in matters military. When the Kabul column (of Bengal troops) wanted carriage, the Deccan, Guzerat, and Khandeish were swept for mules to assist the transport: but though General Primrose, months before Ayoub crossed the Helmund, urged its weakness and the extreme necessity for reinforcements on the attention of the authorities, nothing, or next to nothing, was done; his reserve division was left under the orders of the Government of India as far from him as Hyderabad and Kurrachee, with a tract of country the traversing of which must needs occupy some weeks between them and Kandahar. The only explanation that suggests itself is that Government grudged the expense of putting the Bombay column in fit fighting form.

A FULL enquiry on the future of the Indian Army has been spoken of, if not actually promised, by Lord Hartington in the House of Commons, and there can be no doubt that such an enquiry is much wanted. It could not be made at a more opportune moment. The public mind is very much stirred on the question both at home and in this country; the exhaustive labours of the Army Commission of last year are available as a basis to work on; and last, but not least, advisers will be at hand, in the shape of officers of high rank, with the very latest experience of how the army as at present constituted works in the field. It behoves every one with the best interests of the country at heart to consider the subject seriously, so that if [illegible] happen to have any influence, it may be used in [illegible] direction. We propose to discuss important features of the subject. First in importance, we think, must be the question, whether it is best for India to continue to draw her European army from England, as at present, or to have a local European force of her own. There can be no doubt that the latter would prove a very great economy to India, if carried out, as it should be, if at all, on a far larger scale than the old local army. We would suggest a force of all arms of 40,000 or 50,000 men, as a suitable one for a modern local Indian army, which would still leave a considerable contingent to be supplied from England, in order to bring the total up to what is accepted as the proper strength—a total which recent events are not likely to diminish.

By this arrangement, the English army would retain the advantages of India as a training-ground, while the service in the Home army might be expected to become more popular, by reason of the decreased proportion of foreign service, and great difficulties as regards the system of short service would also be removed. The saving ensured by the substitution of permanent local for temporarily imported troops might be partly used to raise the pay and pensions of the non-commissioned ranks, so as to tempt even a better class of recruits than those obtained for the old local service, who were always, we believe, a superior set of men to the average English recruit. Of course, the term of enlistment would be a long one, say for twelve years, with the option of taking a pension then, or continuing in the service, in the case of an approved soldier, for a further period of eight or ten years. Some people may probably advocate the idea of old soldiers, in receipt of pensions, remaining in this country as colonists, but we cannot anticipate anything of that sort on a large scale, for it is difficult to see how a colonist in India can ever compete with native labour, to say nothing of the doubtful effects of the climate on the future of a naturalised European population. There can be no doubt, however, that many suitable berths could be found under Government, in the railways, or on tea and other estates, for retired soldiers after even twenty or twenty-two years' service, who wished to remain in the country; and it would be difficult to overestimate the value of a large number of such men scattered over India in the event of a contingency such as the Mutiny of 1857. Each, with his [illegible] knowledge of military life and quasi-latent power of self-defence in his immediate neighbourhood. The deterioration of our race, when continued in this country, may be advanced as an argument against a local army; for, as a matter of course, the naturalisation and continuance of the breed would be very largely increased by such an institution, as would be also the number of the half-caste population. This is, we allow, a serious consideration, and might lead to stringent regulations to prevent pensioners remaining in this country without special permission, only to be granted in cases of men obtaining suitable employment. The saving of money would be so great, that, as a correspondent suggests, it might be feasible to found institutions in England, to which soldiers' children of pure European blood might be sent when young, for education, to return to India after a few years. Such a system would obviate the deleterious effects of an Indian climate on the European race, while it would produce a constant supply of young men, who would, no doubt, eventually join the army as recruits in large numbers, and of young women who would naturally marry into the army, thereby doing much to prevent the increase of the half-caste population—an increase which we believe to be considered on all hands as an evil to be avoided. For the sake of economy, such institutions as that referred to might be started in the Colonies as well as in England, where, probably, they would be heartily recognised, and assisted by the Colonial Governments, if it were agreed that the young men and women turned out should have the option of remaining where brought up instead of returning to India. The expense of such institutions would, no doubt, be considerable, as it would be necessary to keep the boys and girls until the age of fifteen at least, before allowing them to return to their parents in India. Something might be done towards making them self-supporting by the work of the elder children, all the boys of whom should, of course, be taught trades; small subscriptions might be levied from the army at large—very much on the principle of the military funds for officers only now existing; while, of course, the fathers would be obliged to contribute according to their rank. We are not prepared to say that the scheme so sketched would be found practicable, as careful statistics would be required before any conclusion could be arrived at; but it seems [illegible] consideration.

MR. GRIFFIN may not be a genius of the first rank. As many of his fellow-civilians think, who have still to make their mark in the service, the late Chief Political Officer at Kabul may even, in some respects, be more "showy than sound." That, we believe, is the fashionable expression among gentlemen of that stamp. Still, Mr. Griffin is, perhaps, too good a man to be patronized by an uncouth up-country scribe who has just had the impertinence to teach him politics, and the wretched taste to compare his work to that of the late Mr. Calcraft, the hangman. Mr. Griffin has "strangled the fair reputation of the British Army" on the Kabul scaffold: "we may admire the operator's dexterity as such, as a mere work of art that is to say, but for the cause itself we entertain the utmost abhorrence," &c., &c. To an uneducated reader and an illiterate writer this seems smart, but the style is, nevertheless, that of the very worst journalism familiar to the revolutionary back-slums of Paris. The less we hear of it in India the better. Trash of that stamp does the object thereof a great deal more good than harm, and this Sir Henry Daly's successor, probably enough, feels. Both on our own side of India, as well as in the Mofussil, a very favourable opinion seems to be generally entertained respecting Mr. Griffin's qualifications for his new appointment. People seem to be pretty much of the same mind with the Simlaites who, on Thursday evening, entertained Mr. Griffin at a farewell dinner. We hear that the new A. G. G. is rather disappointed at not having got the other post for which, as our Simla correspondent lately wrote, Mr. Griffin was believed to be destined. We refer to the appointment of Resident at the Court of the Nizam. Apart, however, from other reasons for the non-selection, the opinion seems to be entertained at head-quarters that it will be advantageous to reserve that important office for military rather than civilian incumbents. For the rest, we should think that an officer of real ability and true ambition would find wider scope for his talents in Central India than in the Nizam's Dominions. The opportunities for careful and enduring work appear to be greater at Indore than at Hyderabad. Measured by our English standards, the improvements already effected are little more than a beginning; but the last annual report on the Central Indian Agency shows that very considerable changes for the better have been effected during the ten years since Sir Henry Daly assumed charge. Still more gratifying is the change in the ideas of the greater and minor chiefs. Mr. Griffin, we think, might have gone further and fared worse.

WITH regard to the recently published despatches, a matter which has attracted much attention is the omission of all mention of such men as Major Blackwood and Lieutenant Henn, both of whom died fighting gallantly to retrieve the mistake that had been made. Out of Lieutenant Henn's little company of 40 men, including three European non-commissioned officers, he himself, the three non-commissioned officers, and 27 native sappers were killed, and 9 wounded. Mention of such gallant men should find place in a general's despatches, in justice to them and for the encouragement of their fellow-soldiers, who may be called upon for similar noble, self-sacrificing service.

[illegible] ADAM writes from Kandahar to take [illegible] telegram announcing the "annihilation" of General Burrows' [illegible] he states, "it was so described"; and knowing that the wire would almost immediately be cut, I hastened to write down what had been reported. Subsequent telegrams modified the first report, and were sent off in succession, as news came in, until the wire was cut for good about eight o'clock." As General Primrose has been severely censured for the pessimist form of this telegram, Major Adam, who really forwarded it, assumes its responsibility. It is so seldom that defeats are magnified in the official bulletins of the defeated side, that there is little likelihood of this error being committed a second time for some years to come. After all, there was the excuse for Major Adam that the "annihilation" of the force was reported, and the momentary expectation of the cutting of the telegraph-wires allowed of a balancing of probabilities. The same excuse cannot be held to mitigate the indiscretion of Lord Hartington, who read the telegram out in the House of Commons, and startled all Europe, when a br

KASHMIR AFFAIRS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SRINUGGUR, Oct. 1.

The Maharaja leaves the Valley on Monday for Jummoo en route to Lahore for the Viceroy's Durbar. He gives a farewell banquet to all European visitors to-morrow.

The marriage festivities of his second son, Raja Ram Sing, take place at Jummoo in the end of November, and promise to be on an extensive scale.

The khariff harvest just reaped has far exceeded local expectations.

The Durbar has been very successful in the re-establishment of the revenue assessment system, and the zemindars, who at first strenously opposed the introduction, are now convinced of its advantages. The revenue is being collected in money, and not in grain.

Snow is falling heavily on the surrounding hills. Food is plentiful, and there are only seventy people in the poor-house. One of the results of the famine has been the failure of silkworms' eggs.

The Maharaja is importing these from France, through Monsieur Ermens.

Active measures are being adopted for the immediate extension of vineyards and the completion of manufactories. Machinery from France has reached here.

Mr. Frederick Henvey, Political on special duty, leaves for good on the 20th instant, and rejoins the Foreign Office on its arrival at Lahore.

The loss by famine, during every industry, aggregates nearly a crore of rupees.

The circumstances under which the deplorable accident occurred have not yet transpired. The Maharaja has despatched officers to institute enquiries.

STEAMER REPORT.

GALLE, Oct. 2, 6.45 A. M.

Mail Steamer Khiva, from China, arrived.

Letters received in Simla, from Abdul Rahman, describe a very satisfactory state of things, so far, at Kabul. The new Ameer is collecting his revenue with ease, and the people are, we are told, docile.

Mr. Lyall's journey to Kandahar has been given up, and he is expected back at Simla in a few days. The unfortunate illness which laid him up at Lahore rendered it impossible for him to proceed.

General Roberts was expected at Sibi on the 26th inst.

We see it reported from Jacobabad that Lieutenant Donville, of the Sind Horse, encountered a large body of Bugtis, on the Kachmore side, and beat them off. Lieutenant Donville is stated to have received a slight cut on the fingers. There are no further particulars of the action.

Sir Samuel and Lady Baker, who were the guests of the Duke of Buckingham in Madras last spring, have arrived at Hongkong on their tour round the world. "Sir Sam," as his brave wife calls him, was very fit, but her Ladyship had suffered from mal de mer during a rough voyage from Calcutta in an opium-clipper.

Native Opinion is not in favour of the remission of Nursey Kessowjee's sentence. "If a prisoner be sick, he is properly treated, and instances are known of prisoners being transferred from one place to another. But we are not aware of any provision of the law, whereby persons guilty of serious crimes have been let off on the ground of ill-health alone. We trust all the papers in this matter may be published for the benefit of the public generally."

A Mandalay correspondent writes:—The little princess is doing well, and the royal astrologers have given her a name, which their majesties have approved of—Atoo Mashe-Hrit Soopyah Gyee, which means the "incomparable Princess."

The Indian Daily News had the Maiwand despatches telegraphed in extenso from Simla. They formed the longest private, or press, message—nearly 8,500 words—ever sent over the Indian lines. The time occupied in the transmission was about 24 hours.

A meeting in aid of the Naini Tal Relief Fund was to be held in the Mayo Hall, Allahabad, on Saturday, to form a committee for the purpose of raising subscriptions on behalf of the widows and orphans of the victims of the late catastrophe.

A solemn service was to be held at Naini Tal on Wednesday last, by the Rev. L. T. Athy, on the margin of the lake, where, it is believed, the bodies unrecovered lie. The Pioneer says one other body, that of Mr. Drew of Bell's shop, has been recovered, and one more may be found, but there is no hope of the rest. The bodies of about twenty natives have been recovered. There is no bad smell about, and no fear of an epidemic from decomposing bodies. Sir Henry Ramsay has been indefatigable in his exertions from the beginning to end, and he was ably aided by Major Garstin, who came in on Sunday night, whilst Mr. E. White worked at the ruins.

An unofficial member of the Ceylon Legislative Council has given notice of a question in reference to repeated destitution in the north-western districts consequent on crop-failures from drought.

The special correspondent of the Pioneer at Kandahar telegraphs:—"The 9th Lancers have been officially informed that they will not be relieved until February. This is a most disgraceful breach of faith, it being always understood that the Kabul troops would not be detained at Kandahar if a successful local action were fought, and no pursuit of Ayoub became necessary. The 9th Lancers have been through two years campaigning; they have always done their work well. Both the 13th and 17th Lancers could be sent up, and unless the 9th Lancers are relieved without delay, the regiment will feel that they are most unjustly treated. One might be excused for asking if the military authorities believe this is the only efficient British cavalry regiment in India. The matter deserves thorough ventilation, before the blunder is confirmed."

The selection of Mr. Sorabjee S. Bengallee to fill the office of Sheriff of Bombay, the Indian Mirror thinks, is simply admirable. The gentleman has long been known as among the foremost Parsi merchants in the capital of the Western Presidency. His enterprise carried him to Sherpore during the Afghan war, and he was at one time a partner in the firm of Messrs. Graham and Company, of Bombay. Only one Hindu gentleman has as yet filled the Shrievalty of Calcutta, and that was the late Rajah Digumber Mitter. Was that appointment the first and last of its kind? Surely, there are other native gentlemen equally well qualified for the office, and we should be glad to see one of them by turns appointed to it, even alternately with a European gentleman every other year. The office is in the gift of the Chief Justice, and Sir Richard Garth has an ample field for selection among the many native gentlemen with whom he is personally acquainted.

Native Opinion:—We are glad that with English Counsel engaged on behalf of the Young Prince (Chota-Oodeypore), and with such an independent Judge as Mr. Herbert Birdwood occupying an anomalous position on the assessor, we shall have all the facts of the case so far as they are presented before Mr. Birdwood. But a higher question arises as to the legality of the whole proceeding. Forsyth in his constitutional law has quoted no such cases; nor can the case of Malharrao Maharaja be said to form a precedent on such matters. No doubt the public law of India has yet to be built up; but the temptations on both sides are so great, and the overpowering influence of our Political Agents in the most trivial matters is so one-sided (as lately evidenced in the case of Mr. Manibhai of Kutch), that we trust the Government will be very careful in directing its footsteps.

All the important Chiefs in the Punjab have signified their intention of being present at the Durbar at Lahore, and the following officers have been deputed to attend upon them:—His Highness the Maharaja of Kashmir will be accompanied by Colonel Jenkins; the Maharaja of Patiala, by Colonel Beadon; the Nawab of Bahawulpur, by Mr. Gardiner; and the Raja of Nabha, by Captain Massy. The officer who will attend on His Highness the Raja of Jhind will be shortly appointed. Captain Lawrence will officiate during Colonel Jenkins' absence on [illegible] and Mr. R. Clark as Deputy Commissioner, [illegible] nominated.

The following is the artillery presented to Ameer Abdul Rahman Khan by the Government of India:—

Guns.	Calibre.
4	18-pr. Smooth-bores.
2	5-inch Howitzers.
12	9-pr. Breech-loaders.
22	7-pr. and 4-pr. Mountain guns, Afghan made.

Total 40 pieces.

It is like the Government of India, the Indian Daily News remarks, that having, as it thought, discovered that mountain-guns were the most useful kind of ordnance for Afghan fighting, it should present the Ameer with 22 mountain-guns out of a total of 40 pieces. It has turned its knowledge, or its discovery, to the advantage of its pis aller, with a promptness which speaks volumes for its ability to conduct a war.

The Bombay Catholic Examiner is indignant at the paragraph which we quoted the other day from the Pall Mall Gazette relative to the apparitions and cures at Knock. It says, that even if the ecclesiastical committee of inquiry should report:—

"in favour of the reality of the alleged apparitions, that circumstance would not authorize the clergy or officials to assert that reality, but the Bishop's judgment would still be required for that purpose; and even then, the event would not be declared by 'the Catholic Church' to have been a real miracle. The final declaration in such matters rests with the highest authority in Rome. Now as regards the well-known Apparitions and Revelations of Our Blessed Lady at Lourdes and La Salette, which have for their support such a string of proved miraculous? cures as should suffice to bend the strong mind even of the Bombay Gazette theologian, if he but cared for such things and would go and see, the question has, two years ago, been formally put to the Holy See, whether they had been approved by the Holy See as miraculous, whereupon the following answer was given:—'The mentioned Apparitions and Revelations have received neither the approbation nor the reprobation or condemnation of the Holy See, but have only been permitted to be piously believed with a mere human faith, according to the tradition they carry with themselves, and which is confirmed by credible witnesses and proofs.' (Decree of the Sacred Congregation of Rites, dated 12th May 1877.) Further than this the Church will certainly not go in the case of the apparitions at Knock, should they after all be shown to have been neither an imposition nor a hallucination—a thing which we shall learn in due time. No theologian, not even the most superficial, will disallow the possibility of such supernatural apparitions; but their reality is subjected in the Catholic Church to the most minute and Searching scrutiny, proceeding from a presumption against their reality, before belief in them is permitted by authority. But the Church is far from rejecting on principle all such supernatural phenomena, and much farther from falling into so great an error as to declare their possibility a superstition."

Our [illegible] winds up, with a second flag of truce, [illegible] dition will go! It is still more wonderful, say we, how a man can be found to talk so glibly of things of which he knows nothing! But theologians are not the only [illegible] judge of these things. The "cures," following upon the alleged apparitions may be real enough, and yet not be in the least miraculous. We have seen an American, in a public room in London, perform scores of "cures" by simply putting his hands vigorously and impressively on the patients, and telling them authoritatively that they were well. The Zouave Jacob cured thousands upon thousands of people in Paris by means equally efficacious. The patients were not helped by making a pilgrimage into bracing country air before coming under their influence. They were to the spot in an omnibus, and returned "cured." Sometimes the cures were permanent, sometimes temporary. How was this effected? Not by miracle or magic, but simply by the effect created on the imagination of sufferers who heard that these men could effect cures, and went to them craving that they too should be cured. It is absurd at this time of day to say that a cure, or a thousand cures, effected without medicine, must necessarily be worked by a miracle. And to "permit," that is, encourage people to "piously believe," such things is, in our view, very reprehensible, and very foolish.

The Pioneer undertakes to tell us what is to be done with General Primrose. "The probabilities seem to be that he will be got away by means of a polite subterfuge. The force left in Southern Afghanistan will be so reorganised as not to require the presence of both General Phayre and General Primrose. As the latter officer has some command in Bombay on which he can fall back, he will be directed to return to that Presidency, leaving General Phayre in command at Kandahar." And then the paper falls to roundly abusing General Primrose, who, it is to be remembered, is still on his trial; and asks "on what system of sound military administration can an officer, who has mismanaged an important trust (the fruitful way in which General Primrose seems to have managed his late charge), be left in command at all, much less command a body of troops even in peace time, keeping out better men below him on the list? This sort of milk-and-water administration is the curse of the Indian army. Why was not General Primrose ordered to return to India [illegible] handing over his command to whatever officer might have been selected, from the moment that General Roberts superseded him?"

The Madras Mail takes up the cause of the Hon'ble Mr. Vernon very warmly; but it is curious to notice how the writer mistakes the point at issue. The question is not whether Mr. Vernon's social position, as an officer of the 12th Lancers, and son of Baron Vernon, of Kinderton, is as good as that of Sir James Fergusson, but whether any young officer is justified in offering such disrespect to the Governor as is involved in striking a member of the bodyguard in His Excellency's immediate presence. Mr. Vernon, we are aware, says he did not strike the man intentionally; that, of course, is a point to be decided by the inquiry which is to be held at Secunderabad. Was the Madras Mail, which bases its remarks on a not very accurate version of the affair, says is this:—

We need not point out to those who are acquainted with Mr. Vernon the desirability of suspending their judgment until the circumstances are fairly and fully known. A more genial and courteous officer—one more unlikely to show intentional disrespect to the Governor of a Presidency—could not be met with in India. The eldest son and heir of Baron Vernon, of Kinderton, occupies quite as good a social position as the Governor of Bombay, and could have no motive for such conduct as that attributed to him by the Times of India; and his acquaintances will be loath to believe that he could, even in thoughtlessness, act so as to bring discredit on the uniform he wears. First in the Scots Fusilier Guards, and afterwards in the 12th Lancers, he has learned the worldly wisdom and the soldierly skill which led to his selection, by Sir Garnet Wolseley, for service on his Staff in the Zulu war; and he is popular both in his own regiment and in society.

In the disastrous result of the battle of Maiwand, the Englishman says, the Government of India has paid the penalty of the obstinacy with which it has long resisted the earnest representations of the most competent among its military servants regarding the necessity of increasing the number of European officers with native regiments in the field. The prediction, so often put forward, that sooner or later the truth of these representations would be established by a terrible lesson, has been [illegible] completely [illegible] could have expected.

BOMBAY.

TO-DAY.

Temple Bar, Concert, 9 p. m.

Vessels Arrived.—The following vessels arrived on the 2nd:—Chupra (s), from Rangoon; Coconada (s), Kurrachee. Yesterday—I. G. Dalhousie, Kurrachee.

Wilful Trespass.—Umuntah Heerapa, a reputed thief, was on Saturday last sentenced by Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee to three months' rigorous imprisonment for wilfully trespassing on the premises of Emamudeen Badoola at Emaumbarra, without any reasonable or satisfactory excuse.

Charitable Dispensary.—The total number of patients treated during the last month at Hakim Mahomed Bakar Unani's charitable dispensary, Chinchpoogly, was 1,453. The prevailing diseases were remittent fever, coughs, skin, chest, and liver complaints. The charitable Hakim has again sent one box (containing 12 quart bottles) of cholera pills to Mecca for general use when needed.

Fire.—An alarm of fire was raised at about 3 a.m. on Saturday last at the flour-mill of Merwanjee Dhunjeebhoy, situated on the Duncan Road. Prompt assistance was rendered by the police and neighbours, and the fire was extinguished before any [illegible] parts from [illegible] damage.

Committed to the Sessions.—Motichund Bhimjee was on Saturday last committed by Mr. C. P. Cooper for trial at the next Criminal Sessions of the High Court on a charge of cheating preferred against him by Neelajee Narayen. It is alleged that the prisoner falsely represented to the complainant, on the 18th June last, that he (prisoner) had obtained a customer for the purchase of certain property, to wit, a Government four per cent promissory note, No. 040269, of the value of Rs. 1,000, the property of the complainant, and thereby dishonestly induced Neelajee Narayen to deliver the note to him.

Gaiety Theatre.—On Saturday evening the Dave Carson-Hudson combination troupe gave their farewell performance before a well-filled house. The whimsical song, "My Mary Anne," was well delivered by Mr. Hudson, and was received with much applause. Dave Carson, for his delineation of Hans von Krupplequier der Schwartze Deutsche, and in his imitation of a local German gentleman's peculiarities, was rewarded by quite an ovation. Miss Ada Maven sang some comic songs with great effect, and was loudly encored. The entertainment concluded with the farce of the Rose of Auvergne, in which the part of the cobbler was well represented by Mr. Devono.

Tank's Police Items.—A correspondent writes from Tanna:—According to the orders of the District Magistrate about sixty mauchlocks have been confiscated by the police in the Mahim talooka, and sent in to the head quarters. A charge was brought against twenty villagers of that talooka under the Indian Arms Act, and sent for trial to the magistrate of the division. The Foujdar of Bassein, who in the case of Empress vs. Devidin, apprehended a man on a charge of murder, who was subsequently released by the Sessions Judge of Tanna, has been dismissed from the service by order of the Commissioner of Police. On Thursday a Native Portuguese and a Khoja boy were tried by the local magistrate for stealing a silver mace, valued at Rs. 250, from the St. Mary's Church, at Bandora, and sentenced to six and one month's rigorous imprisonment respectively, besides a fine of Rs. 50 each.

The Scinde and Punjaub Cotton Press Company, Ld.—The ninth annual general meeting of shareholders of the above company was held on the 27th September at the registered office in this city. Mr. Cursetjee Manockjee Setna, chairman of the company, presided; and the following resolutions were put to the meeting and carried unanimously:—Proposed by the chairman, and seconded by Mr. Pallonjee Cursetjee Sett, that the directors' report and audited balance sheet for the year [illegible] proposed by Mr. Framjee Manockjee Setna, seconded by Mr. Dhunjeebhoy Framjee Mistry, that a dividend of Rs. 175 per share be declared payable to the registered shareholders of the company on and after the 29th of September, and that on the dividend the sum of Rs. 75 per share be placed against a final call, thus making the amount of each share to be fully paid up." Mr. Cursetjee M. Setna, who retired by rotation, was re-elected a director, and Mr. Ghelabhai Haridas was appointed auditor at the remuneration of Rs. 125. After a vote of thanks to the chairman, the meeting terminated.

Failure of the C. D. Act in Kurrachee.—The working in Kurrachee of the Contagious Diseases Act is, we are informed, exceedingly unsatisfactory, and if things go on much longer in the way they have been going on for some time, we fear the Act will be a mere dead letter, more honoured in the breach than in the observance. The Deputy Quarter-master General has made a formal complaint to the Cantonment Magistrate (Mr. Bolton) regarding the number of diseased patients in the military hospitals, and expressing it as his opinion that numbers of women ply their vocations without having their names registered, the police being in league with the women in thus setting the law at defiance.—Civil and Military Gazette, Sind issue.)

Collision on the I. V. Line.—A collision took place on the 24th ult. on the Indus Valley State Railway line, at Nowshera station, through the pointsman allowing a train on the line where another train stood. The carriages were much damaged and several passengers injured.—Id.

Death of a Kurrachee Barrister.—We deeply regret to announce the death of Mr. Joseph William Pullen, barrister-at-law, which melancholy event occurred at Cambridge on the 31st August, after a lingering illness of nearly sixteen months. Mr. Pullen left Kurrachee for England in January, 1879, for the benefit of his health. While on his return to India he had an attack of paralysis on board, which confined him to his bed for several months, and he was compelled to go home again in June of the same year. Mr. Pullen was much respected and esteemed here among all classes of the community, and the sad news of his untimely death will be received with sincere sorrow by all who knew him.—Id.

NURSEY KESSOWJEE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

Sir,—In your para. on Nursey Kessowjee this morning, you state that he has been suffering from "remittent fever" of "a strong type." Allow me to ask you to correct this. Nursey has not only not had remittent fever of a strong type, but he has never had remittent fever at all. He has, however, suffered frequently from common intermittent fever and chronic diarrhœa.—Yours, &c.

W. P. PARTRIDGE, Sergeant-Major.

Sept. 27, H. M. Common Jail.

ADDITIONAL PASSENGERS BY THE HOMEWARD MAIL.

The P. and O. Co.'s s. s. Poona, Captain H. Weighell, sailed on Saturday for Aden and Suez with the Europe mails and the following additional passengers:—

For Southampton—Mr. F. Watson, P. W. D., and Miss Giles.

For Venice—Mr. J. Barrow.

For Malta—Mr. John Sinclair.

AFGHANISTAN.

KHUSHK-I-NAKHUD BEFORE THE BATTLE.

The following letter was written by Lieutenant Henn, R. E., from Khushk-i-Nakhud, before the battle of Maiwand, to a friend in the Bombay Presidency, who has kindly forwarded it to us for publication:—

KHUSHK-I-NAKHUD, JULY 20.

My dear ——Your letter, which reached me to-day, has been a perfect godsend to me, planted here on a sandy desert. I left Kandahar with 40 sappers on 4th July with the Horse Artillery and cavalry for Girishk across the Wali Sinai desert, Governor of Kandahar, against Ayoub Khan, who [illegible] Native Infantry Jacob's Rifles, [illegible] the 10th, and the Infantry Brigade the next day. We had some long and weary marches, and the heat was something frightful—112° in our tents. The nights, however, have been cool, and we nearly always marched then. After we had been two or three days at Girishk, rumours began to go about that the Wali's army was mutinous, and could not be trusted. On the 14th we moved camp at four in the morning to a strong position, and it was determined to disarm the troops. However, this was not to be, for they took the matter into their own hands, and absconded towards Herat, with all the loot they could get, and the battery of guns which we had given the Wali only three months ago. It was decided by the General Burrows) to send a force to intercept them, but two hours were lost owing to the Political, Colonel St. John. About 10 o'clock we crossed the Helmund and went after them—I and my sappers in front of the Horse Artillery, for whom I had to clear a road in places. The cavalry came in sight of the guns about 12 o'clock, and fire was immediately opened by the enemy's gunners, who, however, did no damage, except killing a few horses. Our artillery was at this time delayed by a difficult canal. I managed, however, in a short time to make a passage for them, and they were soon in action; after this the affair was soon over. Our artillery made splendid practice, and the enemy deserted the guns and made off, pursued by the cavalry. I came up shortly afterwards, but there was little left to be done. A few Ghazis in a village close by kept firing at us, so the infantry were sent to turn them out, which they promptly did, killing 20 of them. Our total loss was only 5 men wounded, and 10 horses killed. The enemy lost nearly 100 killed, and I should say, double that number wounded. We took back the captured guns with us to camp that night, and had a hard job of it, not getting in till past eight. We were all very pleased at having had a bit of a fight, as supplies were beginning to get scarce at Girishk and there was no object in remaining there to support the Wali, who had now no army, and was a refugee in our camp. We moved back here on the 15th, half-way between Girishk and Kandahar, so as to stop Ayoub Khan's advance. We hear, to-day that he is forty miles away, with 12,000 men and 36 guns. We have only 2,400 men and 6 guns, but we should have little difficulty in giving a good account of him, if he ventures to fight. I have been very busy yesterday and to-day putting the camp in a state of defence; and as I am the only R. E. officer with the force, I don't get much rest. To add to my troubles I am in the middle of a bad feverish cold, but I have no time to think of it. I don't know what the political results of our fight will be, but it dissolves all our obligations to Shere Ali, and we cannot possibly put him "up again." It is a regular case of "Humpty Dumpty." I fancy we shall all clear out at once, [illegible] Rahman. The whole way between Kandahar and Girishk is a succession of [illegible] and grass every few yards, in which they [illegible] villages. T. R. H.

MOVEMENTS OF TROOPS AT KANDAHAR.

The Kandahar News of the 20th September states:—General Walker, with the 3rd Brigade, 2nd Division, was to leave Killa Abdoola on the morning of the 16th instant, with details of all the regiments at Kandahar which have been dropped by General Phayre, 2nd Bombay Cavalry, 3rd Sind Horse, 15th Foot, 5th, 6th, 9th, 10th, 22nd, and 27th, N. I.; also nine lacs of treasure.

The 2nd Brigade, 2nd Bombay Division, under Brigadier General Brown, consisting of 15th Foot, 5th N. L., 9th N. I. and 1st Baluchis, marched in this morning from Kharez-i-Zarruk.

The 3rd Punjab Cavalry marched in here this morning from Kokeran. They will be relieved by a squadron of the Poona Horse and some of the 2nd Sind Horse.

Colonel Low, Chief Director of Transport, K. K. F. F. proceeded down the line this morning.

The Marris.—A telegram to the Civil and Military Gazette, dated Kach, September 28th, states:—General Macgregor's brigade, consisting of the 15th Sikhs, 4th Goorkhas, and 25th Punjabis left for the Murree country to-day, via Chappar and Harnai; the force passes at Gundakin Duff, 30 miles north of Sibi, where it will be joined by the 2nd and 3rd Sikhs and 1st Punjab Cavalry, also by the 60th Rifles; one Mule Battery accompanies the force. The foraging party has returned from Kosam, having met with no enemy in the latter place. Lieutenant Jennings, the political officer, reports that Kawas has been plundered by the Zhob army, which lately attacked Kach, hence expectations were not realised regarding supplies. The people all round here are quiet; all the posts on the Harnai-Sibi route are being reoccupied. Mr. Duke re-assumes political charge on that line; it is hoped that the railway work will soon commence.

The marauding Marris, we see from our Jacobabad correspondent's telegram of last Friday night, have not yet desisted from their deliberate free-booting attacks. This time they have had the audacity to attack a mail train at Bellput, a station on the Ruk-Sibi line, only 55 miles from Jacobabad. We are glad to see that the marauders were beaten back, and many of them killed. This desired result was evidently owing to some sepoys being there at the time, who must have fought very hard, for four of them (out of a guard of twelve said to be deputed to each station, by our correspondent, were killed.—Beacon.

PADRES AT THE FRONT.

The following is an extract from a letter received in Madras from Father Browne, at Kandahar:—"I found good Father Jackson in the best of health and spirits, and his praise is in the mouth of all, from General Primrose down to every private in the army. They all think the world and all of him for his zeal, his bravery, and his coolness in danger. He was in the heaviest of the battle at Maiwand, as well as in the sortie of August 16th. Everybody says that if any one deserves the 'Victoria Cross,' he deserves six of them. He is just now again out at Maiwand, burying the dead."

THE MAIWAND DESPATCHES.

THE VICEROY'S AND COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF'S OPINIONS.

The Gazette of India Extraordinary containing the Maiwand despatches [illegible] yesterday. We make the following extracts which have not been published:—

THE VICEROY [illegible]

From Colonel Allen Johnson, Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Adjutant-General in India.—(No. 8153 K., Field operations, Kabul,—dated Simla, 27th September 1880.)

I am directed to acknowledge your letter No. 8371 A., "Kabul," dated the 25th September 1880, forwarding a despatch from Lieutenant-General Primrose, C.S.I., giving cover to Brigadier-General Burrows' and Brigadier-General Nuttall's accounts of the operations which took place under the direction of the former officer on the 27th July last.

2. The Governor-General in Council concurs with His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief as to the meagre and unsatisfactory character of the account furnished, which, notwithstanding the time that has elapsed since the date of the occurrence to which they refer, still leave the Government of India in ignorance as to the true facts of the case and the exact circumstances to which the reverse sustained by Her Majesty's arms is to be attributed.

3. The Governor-General in Council, however, understands that a full report of the situation drawn up by Lieutenant-General Sir F. Roberts, after his arrival at Kandahar, is now on its way to His Excellencey the Commander-in-Chief; and as doubtless this will throw much light on what these despatches leave in obscurity, the Government of India will await the arrival of the report before deciding on any further course of action in connection with the operations of the 27th July last.

4. It is not, however, necessary to wait for further information to enable the Governor-General in Council to express his hearty concurrence in the high tribute paid by the Commander-in-Chief to the admirable behaviour of the officers and men of the E-B Battery of Royal Horse Artillery.

Notwithstanding its loss of guns, and the [illegible] full of the [illegible] was disastrous, the E-B Battery, Royal Horse Artillery, may look back on the action of Maiwand as one in which they nobly maintained the credit of their distinguished regimen..

5. The Government of India entertained no doubt of the good conduct of Her Majesty's 66th Foot, but it is still a satisfaction to have obtained the voluntary testimony of the enemy to the devoted courage with which the colours of the regiment were defended to the last against overwhelming odds.

6. The Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in receiving the names of those officers whose services are specially brought to notice by His Excellency.

7. The names of those of the British troops who were killed, and who have since died of their wounds, have been telegraphed to the Secretary of State. The complete lists of casualties, both British and native, will be published, together with the despatches and this correspondence, in the Gazette of India.

8. It is, I am to add, needless to give expression to the deep grief the Government of India feel in reading this sad roll of the losses sustained by the force employed under Brigadier-General Burrows.

THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF'S COMMENTS.

From Major-General G. R. Greaves C. B., Adjutant-General in India, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.—(No. 8351A. "Kabu" dated the 25th September 1880.)

BENGAL.

We learn that the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Sewell White left Calcutta last week for Bombay, where the learned Judge proposes to remain for a few days, and thence proceed to Madras to spend the remainder of the Doorga Poojah holidays. Justice White, previous to his being raised to the Calcutta Bench, held the post of Advocate-General at Bombay.—Statesman.

N. W. PROVINCES, PUNJAB, AND OUDH.

NEW RAILWAY.—The Ghazeepore Branch Line from Dildarnugger to Tari Ghat will be opened for public traffic of every description, and worked by the East Indian Railway Company on and from Wednesday next, the 5th instant.—Pioneer.

CHARGE AGAINST A TELEGRAPH INSPECTOR.—A Government Telegraph Inspector has got into rather serious trouble at Allahabad. He is just now under arrest under section 376 of the Indian Penal Code, and is to be sent down to Benares, in which district the offence he is charged with was committed, to stand his trial before the Sessions Judge there.—Indian Herald.

SUMMER QUARTERS OF THE N. W. P. GOVERNMENT.—We mentioned in yesterday's issue that the residence, at Naini Tal, of the Lieutenant-Governor of the N. W. P. and Oudh, had been pronounced unsafe, and that Sir George Couper had vacated it for another house across the Naini Tal lake. We have since learnt that Sir George Couper has been advised to leave Naini Tal altogether. His Honor has gone to Ranikhet, where he will spend the remainder of the summer.—Indian Herald.

CROPS IN THE NORTH-WEST PROVINCES.—The Revenue Department, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, have published an interesting Agricultural Report on the rabi crops in the various districts for the half-year ending 30th June, 1880. The principal crops grown here, each on a column assigned to them, in which is stated, district by district, the results of the out-turn of the harvest. For example, wheat is reported as a 15-anna crop in Allahabad, a 12-anna crop in Shahjehanpur, and a bumper crop in Azamgarh. Sugar-cane and arhar seem to have given, in most districts, indifferent results; but the other crops were nearly everywhere abundant.

TYPHOON NEAR HONGKONG.

THE British steamer Suez, Captain Eaton, arrived at Hongkong on the 1st September from Calcutta, and as she steamed through the harbour it was evident from her appearance that she had encountered unusually rough weather.

The following is extracted from the ship's log:—Sunday, 29th August 4 a. m.—Moderate N. W. wind; barometer 29·80, and falling; sky overcast. Noon.—Moderate breeze, overcast, and passing rain squalls; barometer, 29·75. Eight p. m.—Strong N. gales and high sea; barometer, 29·75. Four a.m., 30th.—Observed a high bank of clouds to the S. E. which assumed a very fiery appearance towards sun-rise; barometer, 29·60. Nine a. m.—Every appearance of a typhoon approaching; the wind northerly and blowing a gale; barometer, 29·50. Noon.—Terrific squall now came down from the N. N. E. barometer, 29·40; the ship was put in the starboard tack. Four p. m.—The wind, which was increasing and veering E. was accompanied by a tremendous sea, which smashed boats and did other damage; barometer, 29. Eight p. m.—Wind still increasing and coming down in fearfully heavy squalls from the E.; the sea, which was [illegible] was injured; [illegible] was broken. The Captain to man the [illegible] under the lifeboat and had his collar-bone broken, and one of the Chinese quarter masters was thrown over the wheel, severely bruising himself and injuring another man, and this necessitated the second and third officers taking a spell at steering; all the Chinese passengers (200 had to be put in the cabin and battened down. Midnight.—Barometer, 29·95; sea breaking clean over the ship and carrying away every moveable article before it; wind still from E. and from E. S. E. and coming in squalls. One a.m., 30th.—Barometer (lowest reading during storm) 29·85; thermometer, 82 Fahr.; a terrific squall now came down upon the ship which compelled those on watch to lie down upon the deck to prevent being blown overboard; this weather lasted until 2 a.m., when the barometer began to rise. Four a.m.—Wind S. E., sea more moderate, and ship heading E. S. E., barometer, 29, and rising rapidly. By this time the heaviest part of the weather was considered to have passed, but the ship was still kept lying to until 10 a. m., when the barometer showed 29·50, still rising; the wind and sea now decreasing the vessel proceeded towards Hongkong.—Hongkong Daily Press.

Two years' guarantee. Sent post free to every Station in India.

MESSRS. FAVRE, LEUBA & Co. beg to draw particular attention to the above watches, and confidently recommend them to every person who wants to buy a watch: CHEAP, STRONG, and GOOD.
These watches are of moderate size, in an extremely well-made and tight-shutting German Silver case. The movement is protected inside by a glass dome.
The movement has a Patent Lever Escapement, built on the soundest scientific principles.
The watches are keyless, and the hands are set also through the keyless mechanism, so that there is no necessity of opening the watch.
The watches have a second hand.
The figures of the dial and the hands are left extra bold, so that the time can be seen instantly on a glance at the dial, and in nearly complete darkness.
The watch, as a whole, combines strength with all the conditions necessary to good time-keeping.
This watch has proved a complete success as a CAMPAIGN WATCH, and its usefulness is recognised by the daily increasing demand from all quarters of our Army in the field.
To Shikaries, Sportsmen, &c., these watches will prove to stand any amount of rough usage and handling.
We guarantee riding will not effect the working of these watches.
We dare confidently say that these watches, if treated with ordinary care, and cleaned once every two years, will give a 15 years good service.
Every watch is fitted in a wooden case, in which will be found a spare glass, and a spare mainspring.
We receive now regular shipments of these watches by each mail, and every order can for the future be executed by return post.
Only watches that have been examined and timed are despatched on orders.

2 years' guarantee. Packing and postage free.
